Principal's Message:

With a pleasant environment and adequate Learning ambience SKR & SKR Govt. College for Women(A), Kadapa is imparting Quality education with values through blended teaching-learning and reaching the expectations of the stakeholders in empowering the women students. Good education is the foundation for secure, prosperous and bright future. Our students, the learners of today are well trained to face the challenges of highly competitive future.

We have well experienced, qualified and highly motivated faculty, staff and skill development trainers to make sure that our students enhance their thinking capacity, analytical frameworks interpersonal skills, communication skills and technical skills which will mould them into well round technocrats. Also our autonomous status allows us to constantly review the curriculum and update as per the industry requirements which ensure that all our students are industry ready when they leave our institution. Outcome Based teaching learning process, academic discipline, innovative practices in the laboratory, project based subject learning, bridge course, remedial classes, research and development activities, industry linked training and internship opportunities, various skill training for facing interviews, personality development programmes and active participation in the various seminars, conferences, activities for life skills, yoga and meditation, etc. In both curricular and co-curricular activities our students have been faring exceptionally well at various levels and upholding the prestige of the institution. INFLIBNET facility was yet again extended to all the students and staff of the college. Implementing Swachh Bharat, JaganannaPachhathoranam, conducting awareness programmes and celebrating national importance programmes creates sense of responsibility in all stakeholders. The active role of statutory and non-statutory bodies, NCC, NSS, WEC, Anti Ragging Cell, Consumer club, Eco club, Alumni etc., enhance good administration and academic excellence of the institution. On its part, the Department of Collegiate Education, AP is extending constant support to the students by taking timely initiatives in providing employment through the conduct of job recruitment drives in the College. Being an excellent destination for quality education, SKR & SKR Govt. College for Women (A), Kadapa. With its veteran management, faculty and staff are contributing significantly to make the students to reach the pinnacle of prospective career.

Article History	Abstract
Received: 26 June 2023 Revised: 05 Sept 2023 Accepted: 22 Oct 2023	This study aimed to investigate the effects of ginger administration on altered blood glucose levels, cytosolic and mitochondrial enzymes (TCA cycle enzymes) activity in streptozotocin-induced diabetic rats. The study divided Wistar strain rats into five groups: normal control, ginger-treated, diabetic control, diabetic plus ginger treated, and diabetic plus glibenclamide treated groups. The diabetic group had significantly elevated blood glucose levels, which were significantly lowered by ginger administration. The cytosolic enzyme GAPDH activity was significantly ( $P < 0.001$ ) decreased along with a significant increase in the LDH activity in diabetic rats. The activities of SDH, MEH, GDM, and GDM in the heart tissue of diabetic rats were significantly decreased, but the daily oral treatment of ginger to diabetic rats for thirty days reversed the above changes in a significant ( $P < 0.001$ ) manner. The study demonstrated that an ethanolic extract of ginger could lower blood glucose levels, improve enzyme activities and body weight in diabetic rats. This suggests that ginger extract could be used as a cardio-protective supplement to reverse diabetic-induced complications.

1. Introduction
 Diabetes is widely recognized that prolonged elevated blood sugar levels, commonly known as chronic hyperglycaemia, can lead to severe harm, impaired functionality, and ultimately organ failure. This particularly holds true for vital organs such as the kidneys, nerves, heart, eyes, and blood vessels (Lai et al., 2006). Consequently, diabetes is a prominent global contributor to mortality and disability. The International Diabetes Federation (IDF) projects that the global diabetic population will reach 380 million by 2025 (Saxena et al., 2003). Over 82 million people in India are estimated to be affected by diabetes.

Mitochondria play a vital role in diabetes research as they are crucial in regulating energy balance. Various enzymes linked to NAD/NADP are intricately involved in maintaining a reduced redox state within mitochondria. This is important as it provides the necessary reducing power to generate ATP through oxidative phosphorylation (Maeckler et al., 2001). The mitochondria's increased production of free radicals can harm  $\beta$ -cells, which are highly susceptible to these harmful molecules. Additionally, a decrease in oxygen consumption and respiratory ratio has been observed. Moreover, alloxan-induced diabetic rats have shown a reduction in pyruvate dehydrogenase activity and an increase in the NAD+/NADH ratio. Researchers propose that streptozotocin's ability to cause diabetes is linked to its

ROLE CYBERSECURITY FOR THE PROTECTION OF CHILDREN
 Dr. C.V. Krishnaveni
 Lecturer in Computer Science, SKR & SKR GCW (A), Kadapa

Abstract:
 Children are more vulnerable than ever to risks and dangers online in today's digitally connected society. This abstract emphasizes the critical part cybersecurity plays in protecting children's online experiences. It talks about the different online dangers that kids could experience, such as inappropriate information, online predators, and cyberbullying. The abstract highlights the significance of talking openly with kids, setting up parental controls, and teaching them about online safety. Parents, guardians, and educators can make a safer online environment for kids to explore, learn from, and interact by understanding the importance of cybersecurity.

Keywords: Cyber Threat, Cyber Attack, Cyber Security, Digitalization, Digital Devices, Children.

Introduction:
 Cybersecurity is a technique for defending against malicious assaults on internet-connected systems such computers, servers, mobile devices, electronic systems, networks, and data. Cybersecurity can be divided into two categories: security and cyber. Technology that incorporates systems, networks, programs, and data is referred to as "cyber." The safeguarding of systems, networks, applications, and information is also a concern of security. It may also go by the names information technology security or electronic information security. Recently this area of cyber security is drawn a tremendous attention of researchers [1].

Types of Cyber Security Threats:
 Cyber threats are malicious activities or actions carried out by cybercriminals and threat actors to compromise the confidentiality, integrity, or availability of computer systems, networks, and data. There are various types of cyber threats, each with its own methods and objectives. Here are some common types of cyber threat [1].
 Malware: Malware is a broad category of malicious software designed to harm or gain unauthorized access to a computer system. Common types of malware include viruses, worms, Trojans, ransomware, spyware, and adware.
 Phishing: Phishing attacks involve the use of deceptive emails, messages, or websites to trick individuals into revealing sensitive information such as login credentials, credit card numbers, or personal information.
 Ransomware: Ransomware is a type of malware that encrypts a victim's data or locks them out of their system. Attackers then demand a ransom to provide the decryption key or restore access.
 Distributed Denial of Service (DDoS) Attacks: DDoS attacks involve a massive overwhelming a target server, network, or website with a flood of traffic, rendering it unavailable to users. Attackers often use botnets to carry out these attacks.
 Man-in-the-Middle (MitM) Attacks: In MitM attacks, attackers intercept and potentially alter communications between two parties without their knowledge. This can lead to data theft or manipulation.
 Insider Threats: Insider threats can come from employees, contractors, or other individuals with access to an organization's systems. These individuals may intentionally or accidentally harm the organization's security.

Malvertising: Malvertising involves delivering malicious code through online advertisements. Users who click on the ads may unwittingly download malware onto their devices.

IoT (Internet of Things) Attacks: Cybercriminals target vulnerable IoT devices, such as smart cameras and appliances, to gain access to home networks or use them in botnets for larger attacks.

Understanding these various types of cyber threats is essential for individuals, organizations, and security teams to take proactive measures to protect against them. Implementing cybersecurity best practices, staying in Learning Management System (LMS) is an important initiative of the department of Collegiate Education, A.P to enhance the quality of teaching to promote cooperative learning among students.

As an Academic Reform, the effort is a step towards realising the Government's vision to transform Andhra Pradesh into a knowledge hub and empower its students with knowledge and skills.

The initiative aims at introducing pedagogy practices that support meaningful education enabling students to think critically, logically and have command over subjects.

Department planned to develop content for UG syllabus to host in Learning Management System (LMS) portal for the benefit of students.
